Temple Wins 24-19. Cedar Crest

The hitherto undefeated Girls' Basketball Team bowed to Temple on February 12th, at Philadelphia, 29-14, which was more or less expected, as Temple has one of the best teams in this part of the State.

The hopes of the team ran high when at the end of the first half the score was 7-6 in favor of Temple. The girls had put up a strong fight and held their opponents to only three field goals and one foul. But Temple came back on the floor with more fight and more pep than ever. Unable to resist this attack, the Ursinus Team went to pieces and a score of 22 points was rolled up against them. A rally in the last quarter came too late to change the outcome of the game.

MGR. HASSLER COMPLETES

1924 BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Southern Trip is Omitted but Another Is Substituted

The baseball schedule for the 1924 season completed recently by Manager Hassler shows an interesting series of games. The schedule follows much the same order as in previous years, opening with the College of Osteopathy at Collegeville, and closing with F. & M., also on the home grounds at Commencement.

A noticeable difference in this year's schedule is the omission of a Southern trip, although the team will make trips to Juniata and Susquehanna, which institutions did not appear on previous schedules.

A game has also been arranged with another team, Seton Hall, which has not appeared on an Ursinus schedule for a long time.

The schedule includes the same number of games as last year, although it shows one less game at home. However, Mr. Hassler has secured all high grade games which are sure to reflect credit on the team, win or lose, and the six home games especially are good ones, including the strong Rutgers nine.

Coach Zimmerman intends to make as much out of the baseball season as he has made out of the other

ALUMNI A. A. TO

HOLD BENEFIT DANCE

Announcement comes to the college which gladdens the hearts of the "dance hounds" and their fair partners, stating that on the evening of March 29, the Alumni Athletic Club will hold a reception and dance for the benefit of the Field Cage which has recently undergone extensive repairs. Students, Alumni and friends of the college are cordially invited to attend. Tickets will be issued later by Mr. Ralph Miller, of Collegeville, and Mr. Wallace Savage, secretary of the Association plans to send five tickets to each alumni in this vicinity.

STUDIO RECITAL

FOUR DEGREES CONFERRED AT FOUNDERS' DAY EXERCISES

Dr. Schneder Makes Principal Address. Family Dinner Elaborate.
Dr. Fegely Speaker. Women's Club Musical Ends Festivities.

The Founders' Day program on Thursday afternoon was composed of the customary academic exercises, the conferring of degrees and the address which was this year delivered by the Rev. David Bowman Schneder, D. D., President of North Japan College, Sendai, Japan. At 3.30 o'clock the exercises commenced with the procession of faculty, Board of Directors and guests, led by the College choir.

After invocation by the Rev. J. M. S. Isenberg, Dayton, Ohio, the choir contributed two numbers.

Upon Dr. Schneder was conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws. He is at the present time one of the distinguished educators working in Japan and has recently had bestowed upon him two high orders by the Imperial Japanese Educational Association and the Japanese Imperial Government for distinguished and meritorious service in the cause of education in Japan. Dr. Schneder was ordained to the Gospel ministry in 1883 and three years later went to Japan as a missionary of the Reformed Church. He immediately assumed the chair of Systematic Theology in the North Japan College and in 1901 was elected president of that College.

The Rev. William O. Fegely, Trappe, Pa., was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity in recognition of his long and faithful service to the old historic Muhlenberg Lutheran Church at Trappe, and of his ability and success as a pastor there.

Upon the Rev. Richard S. Appel, pastor of the Lenhartsville Charge, Hamburg, Pa., was also conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Rev. Appel has served his present charge faithfully for fifty-three years and has done a great work in that time for the common good of the Church and humanity.

Roland Mulford, of Bridgeton, N. J., received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The subject of Dr. Schneder's address was "The High Mission of the Christian College," a timely and appropriate topic for the occasion and one that was decidedly in keeping with the spirit of the event. His address was a clear and forceful statement of the value and ideals of the Church college of today. As such, his thoughts were in direct line with the purpose of the observance of Founders' Day, when all may pause to honor the pioneers for their ideals and service, and thus to view the achievements of the past, mark the path of progress, and set a fitting policy for the future.

"The Christian college of today must be a backward looking as well as a forward looking institution," declared Dr. Schneder. "It must hold to the ideals and high culture of those who have laid the foundations for the institution as it stands today."

In his address was sounded a note of warning to civilization "which is exhibiting today too great a tendency to place material values above all others. On all sides we see the struggle for power and the pleasures of the senses. Civilization is losing its sense of the value of the highest development of the intellectual powers and is seeking after worldly gains. In such a time the Christian college must stand as the bulwark of civilization. This is the position in which the Christian college stands today and with that end in view it must provide training in cultural studies which will enable its students to gain the highest type of culture and a broad outlook.

Education today is looked upon almost solely as the means of obtaining the tools whereby a living may be gained. Training the youth with a broad cultural education need not necessarily provide him with a bread winning capacity. The college with its Christian ideals is the one institution, the one source from which can come a training which will instill ideals of service, lofty aims and a sincere desire to contribute to and advance the intellectual and spiritual interests of humankind."

From his long experience in the field of school administration, Dr. Schneder was able to make practical illustration of the need of proper organization of the schools of higher learning in order that these aims might be realized.

THE FAMILY DINNER

The Founders' Day Dinner in the college dining hall was, as always, an occasion of good cheer. Unlike the academic exercises in the afternoon, the dinner was not characterized by dignity, but rather by a spirit of joviality. Tables were arranged in a most fortunate way, for almost everyone could see everyone else and a remarkable feeling of congeniality was felt throughout.

It was the first day the Senior

ZWING TO PRESENT

"DULCY" ON ANNIVERSARY

Old Custom of Giving Number
Program Given Up

The Zwinglian Literary Society will present a play this year instead of the usual representative program at their anniversary. "Dulcy", which had such great success last year in Philadelphia and New York has been selected. Lynn Fontaine, the well-known actress, took the title-role at that time. The story centers around a young woman who tries to help her husband in business enterprises and the trouble she gets into. Tryouts have been called for tonight in Zwing Hall at 6.45. Mr. and Mrs. Gawthrop have very kindly consented to give their expert assistance as coaches. Watch for further announcements. The date is March 28.

TRACK TEAM TO PERFORM

AT OSTEOPATHY CARNIVAL

This coming Saturday Ursinus is entered in the track carnival under the auspices of the Phila. College of Osteopathy to be held on the 108th field artillery track in Philadelphia.

The men picked for the medley relay, including one substitute, are Markley, Michael, Bleim, Bryant and Zelle. For the shot put E. Herber and Glocker have been selected.

A relay team will again be entered in the Penn Relay Carnival on April 26th and Ursinus will be represented in the Central Penna. meet at Harrisburg in May and possibly the Middle Atlantic meet.

Dual meets are pending with Drexel, Osteopathy and Temple for the month of May.

Come out, men!

Class was honored by privilege to enjoy college dinner together. A Senior committee, under the able leadership of Mabel Rothermel had charge of the decorations. Black and gold was the color scheme, and the tiny yellow lights lent a warm glow to the room. Ursinus shields and insignia, gold and black table decorations, daffodils, and 1924 banners comprised the not elaborate, but tasteful decorations. Once again, the old college songs were sung and again "Chinese Honeymoon," "Twinkle, Twinkle" resounded through the hall. The Senior Class Song, with words and music by Sarah L. Hinkle, was introduced between courses.

After the last morsel of a splendid dinner was out of sight, eyes were turned toward the main entrance, where Dr. Omwake was acting as toast-master. He introduced Rev. Dr. Fegely, pastor of the Trappe Lutheran Church, who was honored with the degree of D. D., at the academic exercises. Dr. Fegely began by saying that it was a fine thing to have Founders' Day come between two such great holidays as Lincoln's Birthday and Valentine's Day. He chose as his subject "The Man of God." Famous men have won renown through politics, statesmanship, and other channels, but the man who has a firm faith in God is the one who is truly great.

It was growing late and people were getting anxious about evening

LEAP YEAR DANCE

HELD ON SATURDAY

Saturday evening marked the occasion of a new experience for many of the "fairer sex," when they gallantly escorted their partners to the Field Cage and paid their admission to the dance there.

The affair was delightful in every detail—good music, pretty decorations and prettier girls, and Miss Nichol, chairman of the committee, deserves the credit.

Varsity Lost Out On Southern Trip

Lost to Gallaudet 46-28, and to
St. Johns 31-18.

FOUL SHOOTING POOR

With polished shoes and in borrowed overcoats, sent a delegation to the South, the object being to take the measure of two Southern Institutions of Learning and to broaden their education.

The latter was accomplished, many interesting and astonishing things were learned, including: How to make bread without flour, and why there are only 24 hours in one day. The measuring went the other way. Gallaudet and St. Johns accomplished this, after a bit of a battle.

The feature of the Gallaudet game was the inability of the Red team to make good from the charity line, only four out of a possible 16 being made.

FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE

DEBATE THURSDAY NIGHT

Elizabethtown Will Furnish Opposition, Both Here and Away.

This coming Thursday evening, February the twenty-first, the debating team will open its season by meeting Elizabethtown College in a dual debate both at Ursinus and at Elizabethtown. The home debate will begin at eight o'clock in Bomberger Hall.

The question for debate will be, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the World Court, as it is now constituted." The open forum type of debate will be used. The men who will speak at home will be Christman and Herber on the affirmative side and Faye on the negative.

Bietsch will argue the affirmative side at Elizabethtown, and Stover and Deitz will speak upon the negative.

This debate will be rather a preliminary contest for the men coached by Messrs. Witmer and Boswell, of the Faculty. Elizabethtown has never taken part in intercollegiate debating before, and so will lack experience. However, they are working very hard in preparation for their entry into the new field and should put across some very interesting as well as effective speeches.

As is customary when the open forum type of debate is used, the audience will be asked to vote upon its convictions after having heard the evidence presented, thus approximat-

FACULTY VS. STUDENTS

The recent revival on the part of the Faculty of their time honored custom of interfering in the personal affairs and habits of the student body has aroused a great deal of resentment. To those who have been at Ursinus for some years to enforce this idea has a certain amount of grim humor. Indeed it is impossible to recall the sporadic attempts on the part of the Faculty in past years to carry this idea into execution without a smile at the series of rather irritating outbursts, lapsing gradually into apathy, with absolutely no net results except perhaps on the debit side.

It hardly seems possible that the Faculty should take upon itself the task of telling young men, however flippant and irresponsible, that they should wear coats instead of sweaters; that they should wear white shirts; that they should not talk to young women in public places, where naturely their actions should be aboveboard; and that they must accept an arbitrary ruling of the Faculty concerning the number of extra-curricular activities that they may carry.

As has been said, it is fortunate that it has its amusing side, because otherwise this attempt to dictate personal habits and ideas must result in open revolt. There is no more independent class of people than the college student of today, and with the growth of the present trend, among students, toward greater self government and more personal initiative it is indeed astonishing that the Faculty of Ursinus tempts Fate by trying to swim against the current, or to change the metaphor, by bumping its head into a stone wall.

SINGING THE CAMPUS SONG

Every year Founders' Day is made the unwilling father of a most unworthy child, when the Freshmen are forced to sing the Campus Song in a ludicrous manner. In the very first place, it is altogether wrong to wait until such a late date to scrutinize the feats of the Freshmen's memory. They should be compelled to learn the Campus Song, as well as some of the best of the other Ursinus songs, early in the year—at least by the middle of October.

In the second place, to make a humorous affair out of the singing of the Campus Song is a very poor way of indulging the natural craving for humor. As one persons has put it, "I shall never sing that song with reverence again. It will always recall to me the antics of those Freshmen being made the butt of jokes while singing it."

The Campus Song is one of the few really sacred things that Ursinus has. It is one of the most precious possessions of the school. It should be kept on its present high plane, and not made the reason for a cheap vaudeville show.

ousting TRAMP ATHLETES

(From the Marion Star)

Football has in recent years become so much the sport of the people that considerable public interest attaches to the movement inaugurated among certain colleges in favor of a cleaner and better game.

The special target of the agreement now under way is the so-called "tramp athlete" that species of player who migrates from college to college for the pickings he may find on his way. College sport above all is assured to be sport in its best sense with neither commercial nor professional flavor. It should be an incident only in the process of a college education—an important and desirable incident, but subordinate to the educational function of the college and educational purposes of the student.

When anything of which the "tramp athlete" is a symptom creeps into the game, the game and the college suffer. The morale of both team and student body falls and the only element satisfied is that which wants to win at any price.

There are other evils that ought to be corrected in the athletics of the small college. The financial "lift" of so many players ought to be prohibited, despite the exasperating difficulties in the way. Any practice that tends to professionalize and commercialize college sport is bad, and unless checked will lead to serious consequences for the sport itself.

U. of P. Relay Carnival Biggest Event of Year

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY, ENGLAND, WILL BE REPRESENTED

Pennsylvania's Thirtieth Annual Relay Race carnival will this year be finer than ever. Cambridge University, England, has sent word that they will be represented. W. R. Bristowe, the Captain of the Cambridge team that as yet they had not decided on what distance they will chose. It is probable, however, that they will decide on the two mile distance as they have in college, Mountin, ex-champion half miler of England; and Lowe, both of whom have run the half mile in 1 minute 55 seconds. It is also said that Griffiths who won the British half mile championship last July is at Cambridge. If he is there, Cambridge should have a wonderful two mile relay championship on Friday, April 25th, the first day of the meeting. This means that their great athlete, Abrahams, will accompany the team. Abrams has done 9 4-5 seconds for 100 Yards, 21 4-5 seconds for the 220 yards, 49 3-5 seconds for the quarter and 23 feet 8 3-5 inches for the broad jump. He won three events in the Cambridge - Oxford, Harvard - Yale meet last July and is one of the greatest track athletes in the world. Pennsylvania has also invited Eric Liddell, of Edinboro Universty, Scotland, the British 100 yards and 220 yards champion to compete at the Carnival. Liddell holds the British records for the above distance at 9 7-10 seconds and 21 3-5 seconds respectively. If he accepts, his meeting with the best of our college sprinters will be of the keenest interest.

The University of Havana, Cuba, is sending up a team to the Carnival. Cubaa is not strong in track athletics and they will be put in a class race. Occidental College of the Pacific Slope, has also stated that they will hae a team in the quarter, half and one mile relay championships. Occidental has a very strong squad of sprinters and will be hard to beat in these events. Canada will also be represented. Thus with Canada, Cuba, England and Colleges as far west as California represented, half of the globe will be interested in the results of Pennsylvania's great Carnival. It is probable also that Australia will send a college team, these men being on their way to the Olyympic games in Paris next July.

The Carnival will be of special importance this year, because of the keen competition for the Olympic team that will represent this country in Paris this year. The Relay Carnival will give the college athletes of the entire country a chance to show their ability and the results will no doubt have a bearing on the ultimate decision of the Olympic Committee in choosing the American team.

Any schools or colleges desiring to attend the Carnival may do so as all are invited by writing to the Manager of the Carnival, George W. Orten, 3301 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Best Business Career

IS what every ambitious senior is thinking about at the present time. Life insurance is one of the best, one of the most desirable, and one of the most satisfactory as a permanent calling.

In assets and volume of business, life insurance is one of the three leading businesses of this country, yet the field is comparatively underdeveloped. Only 7 per cent of the economic value of human life in the United States is covered by insurance. This gives an idea of the big field still to be worked, especially business insurance for firms and corporations.

As to remuneration: Reports of college graduates who have entered business indicate that life insurance is at the very top as a source of income. Now is the time for you to consider what you are going to do after graduation. If you are ambitious and willing to work hard and are interested to know about life insurance, address

Wanted, more students with high powered minds. Ursinus has now begun a real drive for men students for the next year. We are going after them with all the energy we can command and we call on all alumni and friends to help in every way possible to line up a strong freshmen class for next fall.

For several years past we have gained about 13 per cent. annually on the attendance of preceding year. To keep up this gain requires that we shall have a freshman class that will number about 145 and a dozen or more who may enter with advance standing. Since the openings for additional women students will be less than thirty, we must make an extraordinary gain in men students. So we say, "God give us men!" If there were space we might recite the familiar poem in full for it tells the kind of men we want and the kind that will profit most by coming here. Ursinus is a great place for young men of good ability and first class preparation.

Such students will make more progress and come out better educated than if they should go to the big overcrowded universities. The young man of superior ability does not want to take the broad road and follow the crowd. For him it is far better to turn aside where the few and better minds gather and where without confusion and waste of energy they may attain unto an intellectual stature of greater height and better proportions.

Such a place Ursinus aims to be—a college of the better grade of students. We, therefore, urge our friends to be on the lookout especially for this kind of candidates. They exist in every school. Seek them out and turn them toward Ursinus.

Professor Paul A. Metz, who for the past five years has conducted the correspondence with prospective students with so much success is again in charge. Send him the names and addresses of the boys you wish to interest. The attention which it is customary to give from the college office will effectively supplement your local effort and together will win the boys.

TENNIS SCHEDULE INCLUDES MATCH WITH OSTEOPATHY

Carl Fischer, Intercollegiate Champion, Will Play With Them

The Tennis schedule has been completed by Manager Deitz and has been approved by the faculty. It provides for seven matches, three at home and four away.

The first opponent will be the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy on Saturday, April the 26th, at one o'clock, on the Ursinus courts. This match will precede the baseball game with Rutgers. The Intercollegiate Tennis Champion, Carl Fischer, is attending this school and plays with them.

The rest of the schedule is as follows:

May 7—Moravian, at home.
May 13—Schuylkill, at Reading.
May 16—Haverford, at Haverford.
May 23—Moravian, at Bethlehem.
May 29—Drexel, at Philadelphia.
June 7—F. & M., at home.

ZWINGLIAN.

A "Washington Program" delighted the large audience in Zwing on Friday evening.

Mr. Slifer in the opening number, gave an interesting account of the life of America's first President, interspersed with humorous anecdotes which lent added interest.

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion Mr. Rensch played a medley of patriotic songs on his well-known cornet to the delight of all present.

"The Spirit of '76," by Mr. Sieber was a collection of "wise-cracks" characteristic of Seiber and therefore good.

Misses Yost and Wagner continued with "Marsh Mallowdies," a duet of unusual excellence.

A sketch Miss Groninger, leader, presented in a humorous way the struggles of the "eternal triangle."

Miss Shreve's Review was well done in every detail.

Zwing welcomed into active membership: Misses Elizabeth Smith, Adeline Thomas, Hattie McCabe, Barbara Boston, Miriam Michelson and Hope Dietrich.

U. SCHAFF.

The program at Schaff last evening was miscellaneous in nature.

Miss Smith began the entertainment by an impersonation of two young ladies visiting a prison. It was followed by an encore, "Making Love." The number showed thorough preparation and was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Kaufman, assisted by Mr. Bisbing, held the audience spell bound for several minutes, when the former performed as a violinist and the latter accompanied him on the piano. They played popular numbers, and the ovation they received showed that the audience appreciated their efforts thoroughly. Miss Stevenson recited "Seeing Things at Night." This was humorous and well done.

Miss Derr continued the program with a vocal solo.

Mr. Powell gave an interesting address on the subject "Should the U. S. Accept the Bok Peace Plan." He asserted that they should not.

Mr. Linck, later read a paper in which he affirmed that the U. S. should accept the Bok Peace Plan.

A scene from Sherwood followed featuring, Misses Shipe and Hinkle, and Messers Michael Dietz and Sellers. This was well performed.

Miss Algers read an interesting account of the first settlers.

A Musical review, with Miss Weigley as leader, was enjoyed by all.

The program was concluded when Miss Poley read the Schaff Gazeette an interesting and instructive paper.

ESSAYS ON THE SEMICOLON

W. & J. "Red and Black"

It is not often that the reader encounters a whole book written on an entirely new and original subject. Such a pleasure awaits all those who will read Dr. Hart's latest book, Essays on the Semicolon. Years ago Dr. Hart amazed us with his trenchant monograph, "The Hyphen in Ultimate Art;" now he exhausts the possibilities of the semicolon, presenting them in a three-hundred page book. Some of the engrossing chapters are the following "Early Forms of the Semicolon;" "The Semicolon and Shakespeare;" "Phallic Significance of the Semicolon;" "The relation of the Semicolon to the Cedilla;" "Semicolonistic Futurism"; and "The Semicolon As a Moral Force in America."

Dr. Hart says in his introduction: "I do not expect in the course of my own lifetime to elevate the semicolon to the popularity of the hyphen or question mark; but it seems to me that all lovers of esoteric form in writing will be profoundly helped by a knowledge of semicolonial difficulties. The semicolon is at present the symbol of our civilization; we have not advanced sufficiently to make use of the period, which expresses finality; but only so far as to make use of the semicolon, which expresses probability."

Interesting literary facts are brought to light in Dr. Hart's book. We never knew before, for example, that Keats originally ended the twenty-ninth line of the Ode to a Nightingale with a semi-colon; nor did we know that it was Ibsen's method to write his plays first, and put in his semicolon afterwards. A third delightful discovery which the reader makes is that irascible Thomas Carlyle never allowed the semicolon to be mentioned in his presence. This explains his interesting reply to the grammarian who asked him what were his views on the semicolon. "The Semicolon?" he queried. Really, my dear sir, I am not at all interested in the semicolon."

Truly, a great and vital book. A hopeful sign, too, of the times. For when the whole world manifests vital interest in Dr. Hart's book on the semicolon, our super-civilization will be attained.

CEDAR CREST GAME

On Friday, the Girls defeated Cedar Crest College, 36-27. The heavy snow which started a few minutes before the game, proved a good luck omen to the team.

The girls put up a good game, but because of the slow refereeing, the game lacked the usual pep and clean play on the part of both teams. The play in center demands special credit. Evans played an excellent game in spite of a hard blow on the right hand. Carl starred with field goals, shooting seven each half. The Cedar Crest girls were unable to keep up to the fast passing of the 'Sinus Girls.

Line up:

Ursinus		Cedar Crest
Carl	R. F.	Weinberger

appointments. The campus song was announced and soon the dining room was deserted.

WINTER MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS

The two hours of Founders' Day prior to the public exercises were well employed by the directors in their stated meeting. The session was held in the newly furnished faculty room of the Alumni Memorial Library, the comforts of which, as well as the business at hand, would have made a longer session not objectionable.

Before taking up the business of the day, the Board passed resolutions of respect on the death of Doctor E. A. Krusen, a director who died, September 20, 1923, and of Doctor James I. Good, of the faculty, who died January 22, 1924.

To succeed Doctor Good in the Kaub Professorship in Central Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, the Board nominated Dr. George Stibitz, at present a member of the seminary faculty. To succeed him as Professor of the History of the Christian Church in the College, Dr. George L. Omwake, president, and at present professor of the History and Philosophy of Education, was elected.

The problem of housing students for the coming year was discussed and certain proposals were referred to the Executive Committee for further consideration. It is the aim of the Board to increase the capacity for men students by next September. Progress was reported on the project of erecting dormitories but these cannot be built for use in the coming year.

The Board also gave attention to the matter of conserving the standing of Ursinus as a Christian College. It was felt by all present that the times demand that the institution take a positive and unequivocal position on problems affecting the religious life.

The work of the last summer was reviewed and the progress made was noted with satisfaction.

WOMEN'S CLUB MUSICAL

In accordance with the annual tradition, the Women's Club of Ursinus College presented to the public a musical program of unusual excellence which consisted entirely of interpretations of the music of the American Indian.

The large audience which was present in spite of the snow, was delighted with the efforts of the performers, Jeanette Wells Urban, soprano, and Hazel Dorey, Pianist. Miss Urban's voice is particularly well adapted to the Indian type of music and her accompanist was equally skillful.

The program follows:

Piano: Indian Idyl, MacDowell; Corn Dance, H. W. Loomis; From the Village, Cadman.

Traditional Songs of the Zuni Indians: Trayer; The Sunrise Call or Echo Song, Zuni Lover's Wooing or Blanket Song, Incantation Upon a Sleeping Infant, Invocation to the Sun God.

Piano: Kickapoo Social Dance, Skilton; The Night Scout, Gilbert; The Chattering Squaw, H. W. Loomis. Hiawatha's Wooing: Longfellow; Music by Rosseter Cole.

Piano: The Sadness of the Lodge, Cadman; Wolf Song (War Dance), Cadman.

Spring Song of the Robin Woman: Cadman; From the Opera "Shanewis."
